

PayPal Payment Confirmation**

1 message

Service@Intl.Paypal.com® <customerprompt@accountant.com>

18 June 2014 23:12

To: @gmail.com

Dear ,

This is a confirmation email of a payment of €215.00 EUR received from Anna Christiana.

The money has been deducted from your buyer's account and it has been held with us for security reason. It will be credited into your account immediately you post the item and send us the shipment tracking number as a proof that the item was really bought from you and to protect both the buyer and the seller from any fraudulent activities.

We want you to proceed with the shipment as your account will be credited once we receive the shipment reference/tracking number. here is our customer care email:- customerprompt@accountant.com

Ensure to get back to us because we can no longer wait to credit your account.

Note: Auction and PayPal will be responsible for the item loss or damage after you have provide the shipment details.

Protect Your Account Info

Make sure you never provide your password to fraudulent websites.

To access the PayPal website or your account safely and securely, open a new web browser (e.g. Internet Explorer or Netscape) and type in the PayPal URL (<https://www.paypal.com/>) to be sure you are on the real PayPal site.

PayPal will never ask you to enter your password in an email.

To learn more about protecting yourself from fraud, visit the Security Center. Click "Security Center" at the bottom of any PayPal page.

Protect Your Password

You should never give your PayPal password to anyone, including PayPal.